Congressional Sales Office, 2001. OCLC Number: (OCoLC)49807052 Subject: Children with social disabilities -- Education -- Law and legislation -- United States. Excerpt: . . . As a victim of an accidental shooting at the age of 16, I understand all too well the life-altering consequences of placing a gun in unsteady or careless hands. No place is immune from accidental or intentional violence or from other harmful effects of emotional instability. School shootings have occurred in rural Alaska, suburban Colorado and inner city Atlanta. More than 30 of my colleagues represent districts where fatal school or workplace shootings have occurred in the past three years alone. The elementary school counseling demonstration program provides the only funding for the expressed purpose of improving mental health of our students. Now is not the time to end this critical program but rather to expand it. Currently, the average student-to-counselor ration is more than twice the recommended ration of 250 to 1. In rural and urban districts, the ration is often much worse. Large caseloads effectively prohibit counselors from providing the emotional stability and guidance that our students need, and vast geographic distances between schools make timely crisis intervention difficult if not impossible. To truly meet the mental health needs of our students, we must strengthen counseling initiatives in our schools. I urge you to increase funding for the elementary school counseling program from 30 million to 100 million in fiscal year 2002 in order to keep pace with the expanding elementary school population. This increase would enable schools to keep the current student-to-counselor ratio of 560...
