Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Works, Vol. 5 of 8 Even to those of us who were admitted to the hospitality of that drawing-room in later years its kindly and inspiring associations seemed continuous: may they long remain such! All the tales included in this volume were first published as contributions to periodical literature. My Lady Ludlow appeared in Household Words from June 19 to September 25, 1858; and in the same journal had been previously printed, An Accursed Race (August 25, 1855), Half a Lifetime Ago (October 6, 13, and 20, 1855), and The Poor Clare (December 13 to 27, 1855). The Doom of the Griffiths appeared in Harper s Magazine in 1858, and The Half-Brothers in The Dublin University Magazine, in November of the same year. Finally, The Manchester Marriage seems to have been first printed in Littell s Living Age, a paper published at Boston, U.S.A., in 1859. In that year all the tales included in the present volume, with the exception of Mr. Harrison s Confessions and The Manchester Marriage, were collected together by their authoress...
