According to Wagner, the lowest temperature occurs in healthy adults in the middle of the night, about one or two o'clock, and the highest temperature in the afternoon. A variation of 1 is quite compatible with perfect health. Temperature in slightly higher in infancy and in old age, and in children the temperature is more easily affected than in adult life. Hence in disease a high temperature has less significance in children than in adults. Regulation of body temperature seems to be under the control of the nervous system. The natural means for reducing the heat of the body is radiation and evaporation. Experiments by Dr. Ringer, in 1868, on healthy children with quinine showed that it...
